Senior Class Wills

I, Doug Boock, being of quick comeback mind and all-purpose body leave my last will and testimony. To John Rowley, I leave my old scruddy Converse—All Stars, unfortunately there are still some smoke marks from my "blazing" speed. To Tex Dillard, I leave my lengthy legs so he won't have to follow Joe all the time. To Todd Stegall, I leave a season's pass to the Assembly Hall in Champaign and all the pennies he needs.

I, Tim Campbell, being of worn out mind and body, leave Todd (Beaky) Fredrickson my good ankles and strong legs for football next year. To Steve (Scratch) Cavanaugh, my baseball bat to fight off further attacks from John (Tasmanian Devil) Hall.

I, George Clayton, of sound mind and body will to Todd (Frog) Cosgrove, Todd (Beaky) Fredrickson, Brent (Rolling) Sharer, Charlie (Hairless) Dutton and John (Tasmanian) Hall, the ability to go to the restroom at noon by themselves.

I, Julie Damewood, being of confused mind and unorganized body bequeath to Mr. Leng all the stats papers he can carry and all the chemicals he can compound; to Mr. Avery, a free motorcycle lesson from ME. To Teresa Moburg, a life-time supply of P.R.R. cans (for recycling, of course). To Tammy Connour, the ability to bury cars in the mud on hot Saturday nights, and the ability to fix pockets, anyone's pockets. Last, but not least, I leave YHS with no insincere good-byes.

I, Tracey Foreman, being of spacey mind and almost there body will to Janet Foreman and Cyndi Campbell the power to run a cheerleading squad, and to have some more wild Friday nights in Delabar Park. To Joy Hull, me and Pam's space in 1st hour P.E. for always being the late ones everyday. And to Kevin Koller, his own radio with just one station, 97X. To everyone else, Good Luck.

I, Sandra Harvey, being of sound mind and fat ankles do hereby will the following: To Julie Reynolds, the ability to find someone else to do double stunts with and not let them fall on their face; To Lori Boock, the ability to find a new phrase to describe the Jazz Band and that one certain section; To Michelle (Chelle) Nickols, the ability to find someone else to follow around the halls and take notes on; and To Teresa (Chisa) Moburg, the ability to find a friendship as strong and valuable as I find ours.

I, Marjorie D. Hay, being of sound mind and body, leave to my good friend Donna M., the ability to say no in hopes she says it more than I did. To Joan N., I leave my ability to handle new things in the office and at Farm King. To Joy H., I leave my P.E. locker with a can of D.O. in it so she doesn't have to borrow any from her classmates. To Steve E., I leave all my old ink pens in hopes he'll always have one on hand. To my classmates, I leave a big smile and the little phrase, "It's been fun, but I'm glad it's over."

I, Mike Johnson, being of all terrain mind and off-road body do hereby will to (Slo-Moe) Greenstreet, all of the Z-bart from my truck and to Tex, my blown up engine for a start on his truck he's been wanting to get, and to Jamie (Ann) Dillard, the best of my "Love."

I, Doug Kirby, being of well rounded mind and body, will to Donna Gulick, the ability to chew gum and play the bells at the same time, which she tried to do so often this year in 1st hour. Also, the best of luck to the percussion section in breaking in the new freshmen and last but not least, to the rhythm section in the jazz band, keep on swingin'.

I, Sandy McNitt, being of "questionable" mind and body, will to Donna Melton, the ability to walk up and down the stairs without falling and a box of macaroni—in hopes that she'll keep it down the second time. To Jeff Miller, an engineer hat, in hopes that he'll be an engineer of a lot more trains in the future. And to Terri Harlow, the ability to be in the bathroom without getting caught! Right George!

I, Connie Moore, of spastic mind and puny body will the following: To Susie Gillen, all my athletic ability because we're both such athletes. To Lori Boock, my job as Mr. Avery's secretary with the hope that she'll enjoy filing his "home movies" and that she will be able to ignore his smart remarks. To Vicki (Bullnettles) Boock, a life time supply of "our" talks because she's a special little sister. To Kathi (Short-too) Robinson, the hope that she will find someone besides me to call "Short-too" and the ability to light her fire. To Sarah Rothzen, the ability to stick her tongue out and to do nose twirls without being caught by her Dad. To John Rowley, his personal life-time cheering section consisting of 1 member only and lots of thanks for making the last two years so special.

As I, Mike Munson, leave the school of Yorkwood High, all of what I want to accomplish is done. I leave my will to, who everybody criticizes for some reason or another, Todd Stegall and Mark Davies.

I, Debbie Olson, being of corrupted mind and disarranged body do hereby will the following: To Julie Reynolds, I leave a new lullaby and a meat grinder to be used as a bed for Scoot! To Lori (Red) Boock, I leave 5 bottles of Musk, a pair of "Baggy Britches" and an extra large purse for 4th of July. I also want to thank her for her friendship, because she made my last 2 years of high school a lot more fun and I'll always remember. To Melissa Olson, I will her the ability to stay off of fences and out of muddy corn fields. I also will her a turkey baster to use on Smudge! Have fun "Clyde!" To Brian Hall, I leave a large tube of Preparation H for his skunk Gloria!

I, Janet Peel, being of dizzy mind and strange body do hereby leave Dee Dee Hickerson, my ability to cause trouble in the halls and not get caught, (very often). To Shari Utzinger, I leave the Red Barn, since she told everyone about it. And to Steve Earp, I leave my locker so that everytime he opens his locker all that Junk won't fall out, and the halls of YHS in hopes that he will walk them alone.

I, John Perrin, being of sound mind and body leave to Jeff Miller, a sewing kit so if he gets stabbed again he can sew himself up, and to Steve (Scratch) Cavanaugh, the ability to have his library card in case he needs it. And last but not least to Sue (Woosy) Hallstrom, a brain, so it will help her make up her mind easier.

I, Judi Robinson, being of spaced mind and clutzy body, do hereby will the following: To Julie Reynolds, a bag of nectarines in hopes that they do not get smashed in the back seat. To Sarah Rothzen, a face mask so that she will be guarded from the deadly flag swings. To Michelle Nickols, a stuffed dummy in hopes that she will abuse it instead of her friends. To Jamie Dillard, a permit for "parking" in the Pizza Hut parking lot. And finally, from a few favorite seniors, to Mr. Avery, a years supply of film for making his "Home Movies."

I, Norman Skov, being of sound mind and Ted Nugent body, do hereby will the following: To Julie (Jules) Reynolds, my good taste in music, so she can go deaf anytime she wants to by turning it up loud. To Toni Baldwin, I will all my cassette tapes so she can listen to them and remember me. To Charlie Dutton, the nickname "White Soul Man" and my job of bothering Keith, and to the Junior Class, the hopes that your senior year is as enjoyable as mine was.

I, Carolyn Spence, of stupid mind and body do will to Shari Utzinger, a can of bacon cheese and a ride in Dickie's tractor. To Alan L., I will a horse to ride to town and a long talk in the back of Jim's truck, to Chris F., I will my stall during lunch and to Doug S., I will a new truck, a pop bottle, and all my love.

I, Patty Stivers, being of corrupted mind and disarranged body do hereby will the following: To Susie Gillen, I will a complete book of Ann Landers advice and a can of D.O. for the locker room. To Tammy Clayton, I will my ability as President of FHA in hopes that she makes better use of it. To Joy Hull and Bobbie Gerald, my ability to make it to school everyday and on time, and to the Junior Class, I leave with the hopes of bright tomorrows in store for you.

I, Mike Walters, being of deteriorating mind and body, do hereby will to the following: To Vic, my new car after it becomes old and a 12:00 curfew. To John Rowley, one pair of genuine, hollowed-out, lead-filled num-chucks. To Scratch, one indestructible vehicle and one girl who's dumb enough to stick with him for a year which will be an impossible endless search. To everybody else, good luck because you'll need it.

I, Pam Wheeler, of mixed up mind and disturbed body will to Joy Ann Landers Hull, your own column in the Review Atlas. To Janet Foreman and Cyndi Campbell, I leave them my bathroom for small talk. And to Kevin Koller a kinky pair of underwear from K-mart. To everyone else, Good Luck.

I, Ricky Williams, being of Dan Gable body and mind will to the wrestling squad, the ability to enjoy the banana splits and the best of luck; to "Cuz" Bert Hinton, more senior girls; Teresa Moburg, strong seat belts; Debbie Cutliff, the rotten personality I seem to have.

Julie Reynolds
Sandra Harvey

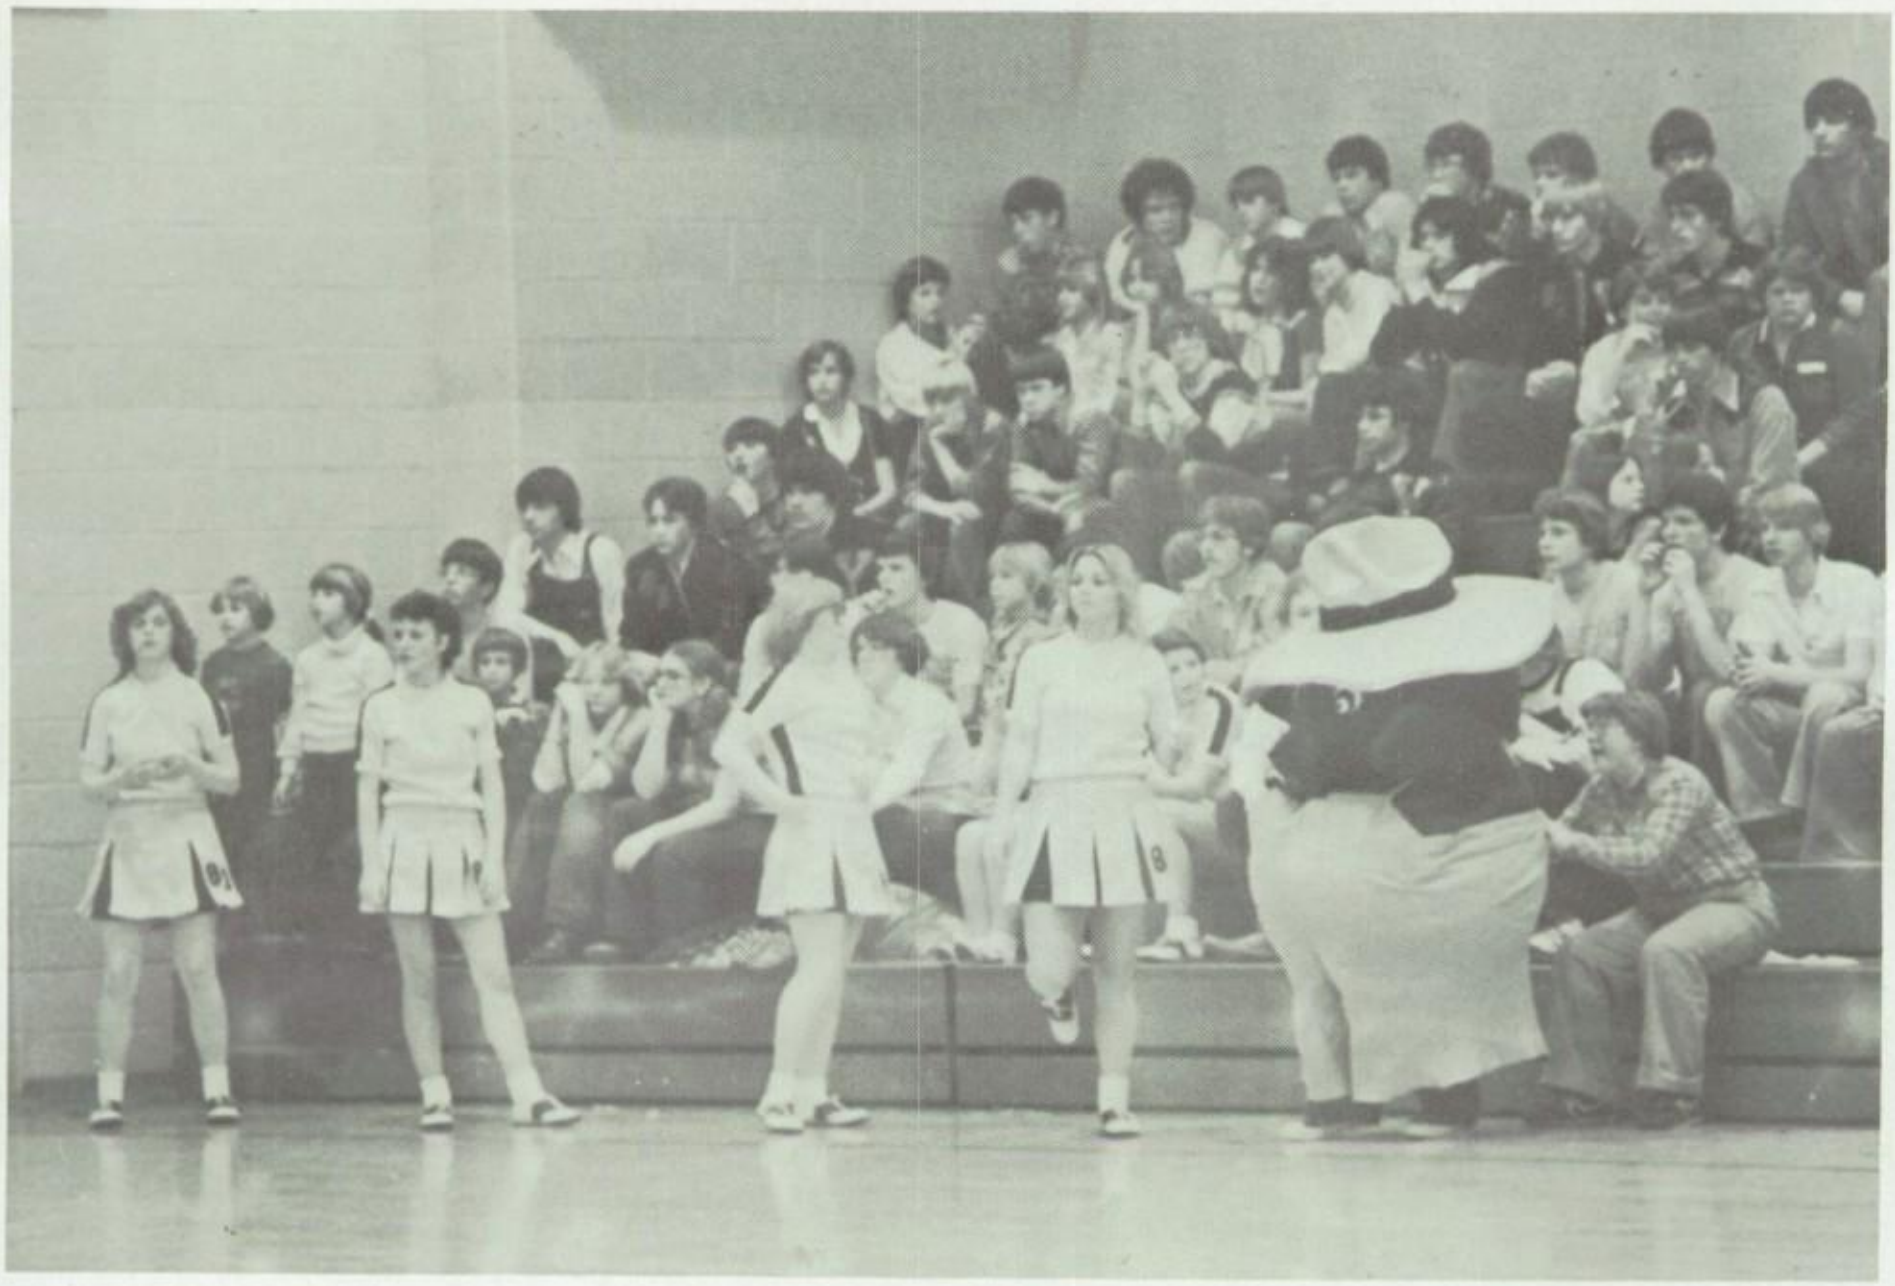
Teresa Moburg Toni Baldwin Terri Taylor

These six girls went through many ups and downs throughout the year but were able to smile throughout all. They went to camp at I.S.U. and learned many cheers. They were honored with ribbons and won the spirit stick. Terri joined 15 other girls, out of a group of 900, to model in the cheerleaders' fashion show. This is where the very popular cheer, "Rock", originated. The student body learned to enjoy this cheer at pep assemblies where they "rocked" the gym. Sandra Harvey was this year's only senior cheerleader.



Cheerleaders and mascots go together like Kool-aid and kids. This cute bear on the left, better known as Gary Van Winkle, helped pep-up games throughout many seasons. Although the bear won't reveal his birth date, we did hear, from a reliable source, that he's been active for about 5 years. As the years have gone by, retirement looked better and better. After the '79 football season, "Bear" did retire and a new "Bear" moved in. This Bear is a bear you won't want to mess with! He's 15 pounds of pure stuffing. This Bear likes to be in the spotlights whenever possible and really added to Yorkwood's pride and enthusiasm. We hope to make this bear a legend and the old bear shall not be forgotten.

These smiling faces are seen a lot on the football and basketball sidelines and they aren't referees either. They always seem to have a lot of pep even when the going gets rough. The fans and players would like to say thanks for their hard work and dedication. Keep it up, you've got another year coming . . .

This year's wrestling team showed much improvement over last year's season. This team has achieved the best record Yorkwood has ever had, posting an 11-5-1 record and placing in all tournaments. The team was aided by five seniors and many veteran underclassmen. Also, the excellent coaching of Mr. Horner and Mr. Lonergan, could have helped a little. Good luck to next year's squad!

Jr. High Building for Tomorrow

In the past, Jr. High girls had no chance to participate in a basketball program. This year an intramural program was established. The girls, instructed by Coach Mayes, Coach Flynn, and several high school students, learned basic skills and then played between themselves. This program should help with our high school program, and give the girls a fun experience too!!
